

The school year is coming to an end and that means more fun, but fewer books. A total educational unplug over the summer can cause students to lose some of the information that was learned that year, but engaging in a little bit of learning can help accelerate learning when kids dive back into school in the fall! Learning over the summer? That sounds boring. But it doesn't have to be.

In this month's World Book Wired we're sharing a variety of fun digital resources, distance-learning activities, and summer reading ideas.

USE IT! DON'T LOSE IT!
